

PERRY'S END.

Lanier's Murderer Was Hanged at Noon.

His Family Spent the Night With Him—Selected His Own Coffin.

Atlanta, Ga., Sept. 8.—Horace H. Perry was hanged at noon for the murder of Bely Lanier. He passed his last night on earth very calmly and peacefully. His wife and five children remained with him all the night until 5 o'clock in the morning, when Perry had breakfast served and bid them a last good-bye.

Perry for once completely broke down. After their departure he regained his nerve and made his last preparations.

His coffin he selected yesterday, and paid in advance all burial expenses. He said that he did not fear to die, and did not regret the killing of Lanier. At 6:15 he was taken to Decatur, eight miles distant. His wife and son will follow later.

Perry made a long speech before the black cap was placed over his face, in the course of which he said: "I shot Bela Lanier because he had dishonored my wife and brought disgrace upon my children. A man who outrages an honest wife should be treated as a mad dog, and shot down on sight. If I had the deed to do again I would repeat it. I have been convicted by the law of Georgia, but by the law of manhood I stand justified."

The Sheriff became badly rattled, and almost fainted after the hanging.

Bely Lanier, so the evidence in court went to show, had informed Mrs. Perry of Perry's infatuation for another woman. This so enraged Perry that he lay in wait for Lanier for days with a revolver. Perry was apprehended and promised not to harm Lanier, whom he (Perry) had charged with assaulting his wife, but he was no sooner released than he shot Lanier in the back in cold blood.

The jury found him guilty of premeditated murder and sentenced him to death. Mrs. Perry made a personal and sensational plea to Gov. Atkinson for her husband's life, but the Governor refused to interfere.

ROPER RUN IN.

Murdered Sheriff Byler in Arkansas in 1892.

Mena, Ark., Sept. 8.—Leward Logan and J. A. Middleton, who came into Mena with a man who gives his name as B. Blocker, say he answers every description of Jesse J. Roper, wanted for killing Sheriff A. G. Byler of Baxter county, in 1892, and for whose capture a reward of $1,500 was offered by Gov. Fishback. "Blocker" has been living in Montgomery county two years and has gone under assumed names. He was captured near Black Springs, Montgomery county, by stratagem.

Logan came to Roper's place as a criminal hiding from Marshals in Indian Territory. Middleton enlisted Roper's assistance in arresting him. They arrived at Middleton's home, all went to the cellar to drink wine. Roper left his gun up stairs and Logan and Middleton covered him with guns and charged him with the crime.

Roper for the time was almost prostrated. He shook as one with ague. He was bound and shackled and brought here and taken on the train to Harrison.

The description is complete, even to the teeth and mole on the face. The photograph is an exact likeness.

Roper ranks with Dalton in desperation.

Texas Building Stolen.

Kauffman, Tex., Sept. 8.—The church, also used as a school building, on Spike's Prairie, eleven miles east, was stolen bodily and moved ten miles. Residents in the neighborhood are incensed over the matter, and money is being raised to prosecute the thieves.

HUGGED A BURGLAR.

Miss Nellie Feeley of Kansas City Proves too Much for One Bold, Bad Man.

Kansas City, Mo., Sept. 6.—Miss Nellie Feeley, who lives at 803 Penn street, displayed remarkable courage this morning by capturing a daring burglar who had entered her house.

Miss Feeley had left her front door open and gone to visit a neighbor. No sooner had she left than Charles Winslow, a recent arrival in the city entered and gathered up considerable jewelry and silverware.

Miss Feeley returned to her house just as the thief was about to depart his arms loaded with plunder. She grappled with the burglar and held him in her arms until she received a stunning blow on the left cheek, which caused her to release her hold and fall.

Miss Feeley was on her feet again in an instant, however, and fought the bold intruder fiercely, at the same time yelling at the top of her voice for help. She held the man until the arrival of Officer Moulder, when he was taken to police headquarters and locked up.

During the struggle with the burglar, Miss Feeley sprained her left ankle, and as a result she will be confined to her home for several days.

Weyler Boasts.

Havana, Sept. 8.—Gen. Weyler was welcomed on his return from the field to the palace by the leaders of the Spaniards in Cuba. He talked with unusual freedom about his policy and the war.

"I am not afraid," said Gen. Weyler, "of the charges made against my administration. I do not try to win the title of a humane general. War is war, and I came here to make war, a relentless, pitiless war against the enemies of Spain."

"What means all the outcry against my decree ordering the concentration of the pacificos? It is not my fault if hundreds or thousands of people have to die from the effects of a military measure. I did not provoke this war."

"I believe that the magnanimity of Spain is so great and the injustice of the revolution so extraordinary that the insurgents and their abettors do not deserve any consideration."

Grover's Taxes.

Trenton, N. J., Sept. 3.—The County Board of Assessors was greatly refreshed by the statement presented by the assessors from Princeton borough, who exhibited the return blank made by Grover Cleveland.

He fixed the value of his new home at $20,000, and his personal property at $130,000. He says in his remarks that this is as near as he can get at the value of his securities, because of the fluctuating value of stocks.

Mr. Cleveland, however, pays taxes on Washington property and on Gray Gables. As a part of the New York Gridiron Street Railway syndicate he also pays taxes on New York property.

Stoned by Women.

Gas City, Ind., Sept. 8.—About 300 men congregated about the Thompson Glass Company's factory when it was started yesterday with non-union men.

When J. Thompson appeared he was stoned and a general fight followed. One man was badly hurt, his shoulder being broken, and Mr. Thompson was hurt by stones. His life is threatened. Women took an active part.

Last night an open meeting was held, and the action of Thompson was severely condemned by D. A. Hayes, President of the Green Glass Workers' Association, and several prominent business men, including Mayor Brashear.

30 DIE BY WRECK AND FIRE.

Many Passengers Consumed by Fire After the Wreck.

NEARLY 200 INJURED.

Head-End Collision Due to a Conductor's Carelessness—Trains Meet at Full Speed.

Newcastle, Col., Sept. 10.—As a result of a conductor's refusal to obey orders a crowded Denver and Rio Grande passenger train and a Colorado Midland fast stock train, both going at full speed in opposite directions, ploughed together two miles west of here at 12:25 this morning.

The number of dead is now estimated at thirty. The exact number may never be known, as the wreckage was consumed by fire before any of the imprisoned victims could be rescued. After twelve hours' incessant work by the wrecking crews in clearing away the debris and rescuing the bodies of those who perished, it is yet impossible to secure more than an estimate of the loss of life, and even those killed have not been identified. Many of the unfortunate never will be known, and it is possible that the number killed will always be in doubt. From the best information obtainable now fully thirty persons are believed to have perished, while 18 are known to have been badly injured.

The wreck is by far the worst, not only in the history of Colorado, but in all the annals of Western railroadings. When the disaster occurred the concussion was so great that both engines, baggage and express cars, smoker and day coaches and two stock cars were totally demolished and the track for many rods in both directions was torn up. The fire started from the explosion of a Pintsch gas tank on one of the passenger coaches.

The generally accepted theory as to the cause of the wreck is that Conductor Burbank of the Midland special, anticipating the time of the passenger, undertook to "steal a station" and beat the passenger into Newcastle. Burbank escaped uninjured, and upon orders from Coroner Clark has been placed under arrest by the sheriff.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Strouse, who live one quarter of a mile from the scene of the accident, report that when the two trains met the shock was so great as to literally hurl them out of bed. Some say the noise was heard and the shock felt in Newcastle.

Some excitement was occasioned by two Italians attempting to break open trunks taken from the baggage car. Marshal Pearson shot at one and thinks he hit him. The other, Nick Fick, was arrested.

The Rio Grande passenger train was due at Newcastle at 11:05 o'clock, and should have reached the point one and one half miles beyond Newcastle, where the accident occurred, by 11:10.

Frank P. Mannix, a newspaper man of Victor, Col., who was in the smoker and escaped with some painful bruises and burns, said today: "Words fail to express the horror of the scene. The crash came unexpectedly. Suddenly all was darkness, confusion. The air was filled with cinders, splinters and heated gases. Then flames darted up on either side. The scene was simply indescribable. The flames were in a sense a Godsend, for with their aid the windows were located, even though passengers had to jump through the flames."

The accident occurred at the worst possible point. Two minutes' running time each way would have averted the wreck, as each engineer could have seen the approach of the other train. The trains collided on a curve or bend round a mountain, and there was no opportunity to avoid the wreck, or even to slacken the speed.

A Frog Slept 20,000 Years.

Chicago, Ill., Sept. 8.—Workmen on the Northwestern Land Tunnel at North avenue and Kedzie avenue rudely disturbed, yesterday, the slumbers of a frog that, in the estimation of scientists, had been sleeping for at least 20,000 or 30,000 years.

Down in the depths of the earth, 90 feet, a blast of powder was shot. The concussion broke a large piece of rock and clay into several parts, and in one of these lay the frog. It was brown in color and torpid.

Prof. Guthrie, a scientist, thinks that the frog must have been buried before the first glacial period, which may have been 20,000 to 40,000 years ago.

PANIC SPREADS IN IRELAND.

Poor People Become Distracted at Famine Prospects.

London, Sept. 8.—A panic is spreading throughout Ireland over the terrible prospect of the apparently complete failure of the harvest. Reports from 110 parish priests from Counties Clare, Cork, Kerry, Limerick, Tipperary, Antrim, Armagh, Cavan, Derry, Donegal, Down, Fermanagh, Monaghan and Tyrone all tell the same piteous story of ruined crops, impending destitution and famine. Blight has everywhere wholly or mainly destroyed potatoes, while oats, which is the next most essential crop to Irish farmers, have been battered down by incessant rains and practically destroyed.

From Connemara county, Galway, comes this heartrending tale: "The late long run of harsh weather scarcely a vestige of hope to the poor Connemara cottiers. The three principle crops raised in this locality—hay, oats and potatoes—are virtually ruined, the latter to an alarming extent. It is common observation around Clifton that it is a full day's work for a man to dig one full meal of potatoes for his family, and even then they can scarcely be eaten."

From Mallow, County Cork, situated in the rich streak of land known as "Golden Vein," the report is: "The oat crop, which is the main dependence of a vast majority of the farmers, is entirely unfit for marketing purposes. It is still seen spread out in sheaf and can not be bound or stalked. The crop is now reduced to a condition that fits only for the manure heap. The potato crop is counted altogether a failure."

A dispatch from Westmeath says: "Incessant rains for the past month have completely destroyed crops of every description. What were a month ago smiling, cheerful looking fields are today blighted and rained. The potato crop is bad even to rotteness. Oats and kindred crops are in such a wretched way that no yield can be expected from them."

Indian Dog Feast.

Perkins, Ok., Sept. 8.—The Iowa and Sac and Fox tribes are holding their annual reunion and dog feast on the allotment of Chief Abraham Lincoln, six miles south of here.

After six days and nights of continuous dancing the great dog feast came off yesterday, something like 200 canines being roasted. Tomorrow the dance will be resumed, when they expect to be joined by 300 Osage Indians, who came down to dance with the Pawnees, but found the latter tribe so busy hauling wood to the agency that they would not take time to stop and dance, an unheard of thing for an Indian.

Vice President Hobart is evidently a snob of the first water. At Philadelphia a gateman at the rail way depot refused to open the gate and let him go to a car. The gateman told the Vice President the Railway Company fixed his orders and he could not violate them without losing his place. Even after this explanation Hobart went to the Railway officials and had the young man discharged, notwithstanding he had a wife and child to support. Hobart is one of your every day constitutionally small men, who will never die with the enlargement of the heart.—Ex.

FACULTY WITH ANDREWS.

Every Professor of Brown Asks for the Resignation's Withdrawal.

Providence, R. I., Sept. 8.—The last conference in the Andrews case was held this afternoon, when Dr. Andrews met the advisory and executive committees of the corporation of Brown University.

President Andrews received a letter from the faculty, in which he was requested to withdraw his resignation. It was signed by every professor, associate professor and assistant professor at present in Providence or vicinity, and it is said by those interested to show complete harmony in the faculty and cordial relations with Dr. Andrews. Its signers include those members of the faculty who declined to sign the memorial to the corporation. It was drawn up while Dr. Andrews was in New York and laid before him immediately upon his return to this city, the thought being that he might possibly persist in his resignation before he was aware of the faculty's feelings in the matter.

An Attractive "Retreat."

Jefferson City, Mo., Sept. 6.—The Missouri State Penitentiary is one of the largest penal institutions in the United States. It now has confined within its walls nearly 2,200 convicts and more in proportion to the number confined, are at work under the present administration than under any previous one. The State will from trend of affairs reap a greater income from that institution.

The flower courts are magnificent almost equal in aspect to Babylon's hanging gardens of ancient times. They are located just inside of the main entrance and consists of 75 different varieties of flowers.

This garden of flowers, which first charms the eye of those who visit the penitentiary, is something that but few persons expect to be told in an institution of this kind.

Chaplain Pike stated today that a brass band would be organized from convicts in a few days and that 800 new volumes would be added to the library room. This shows that everything is being done that can be done to lighten the heavy hearts of the unfortunate and make their stay as pleasant as possible.

Abbe Richer's Love.

Ottawa, Ont., Sept. 8.—An Ottawa Catholic priest, the Abbe Richer, and Miss Cote, a beautiful young girl of 17, braved the thunders of the church until Rev. Father Mangin visited Abbe Richer Saturday evening. He was closeted with Abbe Richer over three hours. The two lovers have been separated.

The girl is on her way to a convent, where she will spend the rest of her life.

As to the priest, he was submitted and is now awaiting the sentence which will be passed upon him by His Grace, the Archbishop of Ottawa. He will probably be sent to a monastery, to do penance for a term of two or three years.

A scene full of anguish happened when the girl was taken away from her lover. She cried bitterly, and wished to die rather than to bury her lost hopes and her illusions between the four walls of a convent, where she must renounce forever the joys of life and live in retirement and expiation.

Richer, until Saturday, was firm in his determination to give up the priesthood and live with Miss Cote.

Dig down to the cause of your sickness, if you want to get well and stay well. Most likely it's indigestion. The irritating poisons of fermenting, putrid food, left in the stomach by indigestion, cause headache, neuralgia, nervousness, dizziness, stomachache, nausea, irritability, and all the other well known symptoms of indigestion.

They also cause many pains and disorders which are often laid to other causes and hence are not easily cured. But as soon as the poisons are removed, all these symptoms and disorders disappear, because there is nothing left to cause them. Nothing succeeds in this like Shaker Digestive Cordial, because it prevents the undigested food from fermenting in the stomach and helps the stomach to digest its food.

Sold by druggists, price 10 cents to $1 per bottle.

Girl Assaulted.

Macon, Ga., Sept. 8.—Miss Sallie Chapman, 19, living with her half-brother, J. C. McDale, was assaulted and brutally outraged in her bedroom by an unknown man this morning.

She was aroused from a sound sleep by feeling a hand on her throat. She tried to scream, but her assailant choked her. He escaped before the alarm was given.

Miss Chapman does not know whether he is black or white. She is prostrated.

If the man is caught nothing can save him from lynching.
